General Policies and Schedule of Fees

This studio specializes in giving private instruction for traditional or commercial guitar playing and supplemental lessons in music theory. The instructors are experienced and dedicated teachers who are committed to realizing each student's potential on an individual basis. Their regular support is intended to assist and enhance the various stages in a student's personal development of mental concentration, musical skills, and self-confidence. Recital opportunities provided by the studio are highly recommended, however, such participation is not required to maintain enrollment. Lessons are available year-round and must be scheduled consecutively in advance. Minimum commitment period is four lessons. Please arrive and depart punctually. Lessons are scheduled back-to-back, so do not expect your instructor to give a full-length lesson if you arrive late.

Cancellations: Do not expect your instructor to initiate any schedule changes for you. To reschedule a lesson you must first contact the studio telephone and give at least 48-hours advance notice prior to your appointment. A make-up lesson for a cancellation made under the 48-hour requirement will only be allowed in the occurrence of a sudden, severe illness or in hazardous weather conditions. In any case, the rescheduled lesson normally must be attended within seven days of its original date or it is to be forfeited.

Tuition fees: All fees are non-refundable and are due at the first lesson in each period.

Additional costs: 1) Two paid holidays per year: The studio will close for two separate one-week "breaks", with exact dates to be determined annually. Regular appointments scheduled during these breaks will be counted as if attended. 2) Recitals: The cost to participate ranges from $30 to $75. Actual costs will depend on the location, plus -where music is to be performed with an ensemble- any additional studio-time required to rehearse with the ensemble. In such cases these costs would be determined and announced in advance. 3) Instructional materials: Each is individually priced to include the 5% MD sales tax.
